

Greg's First Big Adventure at GWA

GEMS

1995

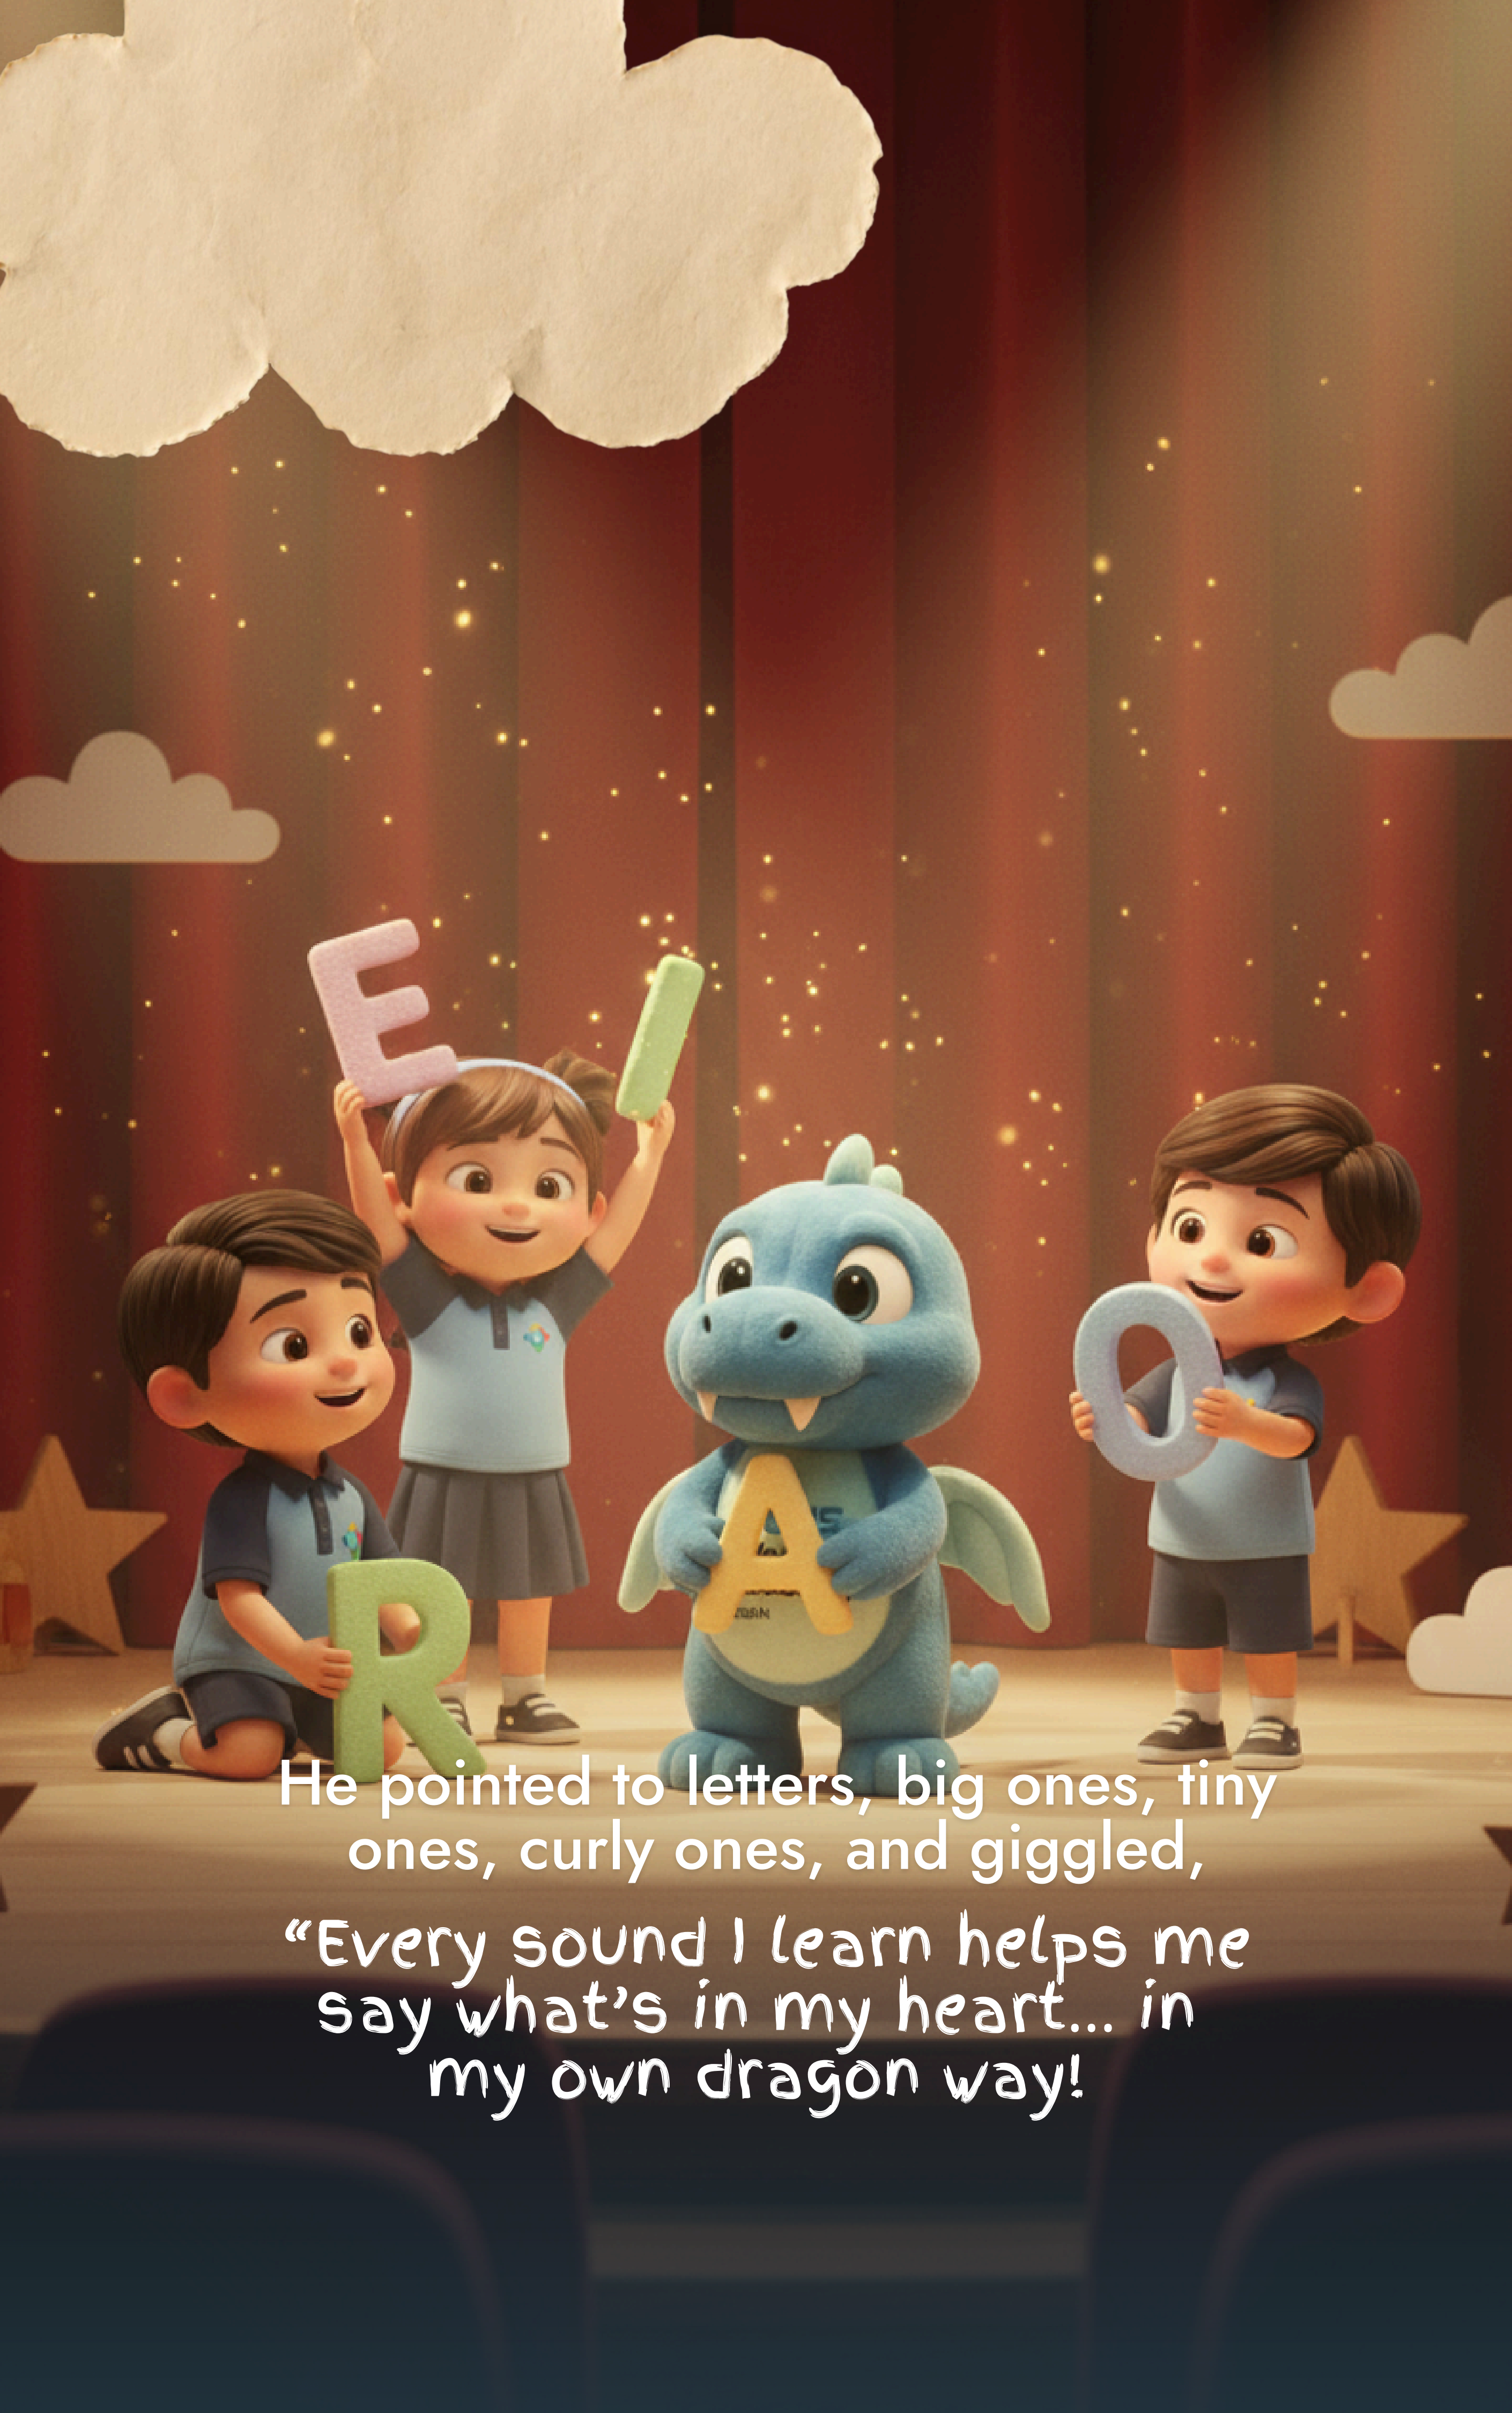

Greg the little dragon zipped into school and whispered, “Today, I will learn sounds that make my dragon heart go pop!”

In phonics, he tapped the sounds

“a...a...a! s...s...s! t...t...t!”

and tiny dragon sparks floated up, each one carrying the sound of his brave little voice.

He pointed to letters, big ones, tiny ones, curly ones, and giggled, “Every sound I learn helps me say what’s in my heart... in my own dragon way!”

Outside, he shouted phonics as he played,
“P for puddle! B for bubbles!
M for mud!”

and the whole playground answered back, like the world was listening to everything he had to say.

In the reading nook, Greg sounded out a word
c...a...t and cheered,

“When I know the sounds, I can read, dream, share... and tell my own stories!”

Flying home in happy loops, he said,
“At GWA, my play has power... my words have magic... and my voice helps me learn the whole wide world.”

The End

At GWA, we believe every child has a voice worth hearing, a voice full of curiosity, ideas and dreams. This little book was created to help you share those moments at home...to read together, wonder together, and build memories in the quiet spaces of bedtime or anytime your child needs closeness. As your child grows with us, we will keep nurturing their voice, through play, through stories, through sounds, and through every opportunity to be heard. Here at GWA, your child will Always be seen.
Always valued.
Always listened to.
And together, we'll help them learn to read their world...and tell their own story.
